

Incident Response Retainer

AlphaProactive is an incident response retainer that ensures an elite team of incident response (IR) experts is on standby so you can respond faster to an attack. Our seasoned experts are already familiar with your network and will help reduce the business impact of a cyberattack when time is your most critical resource.

We are ready before you need us

Have resources available for urgent escalations as well as general IR expertise. Access to prepaid retainer hours ensures the availability of our IR experts within a predefined time limit to help identify root cause, incident scope, or other activities related to potential threats.

Respond faster and get back to business

Our onboarding process builds familiarity with your environment, technology and capabilities to expedite evaluation timelines upon escalation. Our approach to IR is different. We eradicate the threat actor AND support business continuity. We recover your machines and network and get your devices back online so you can get back to business.

Highly trained, experienced, & certified security professionals

Our team has decades of experience in incident management, security intelligence, and corrective actions and has handled hundreds of breach investigations. Our seasoned, certified incident response experts will reduce your response time, minimize the impact of a cyberattack, and help you recover faster.

Step by Step

INCIDENT RESPONSE METHODOLOGY

DISCOVERY

Forensically collect data while following industry standard methodologies.

IDENTIFICATION

Determine the attack vector, entry point, and extent of the compromise.

CONTAINMENT

Halt the breach, so it doesn't spread and cause further damage to your business.

ERADICATION

Find and eliminate the root cause of the incident to prevent similar types of attacks in the future.

RECOVERY

We get your systems and business operations back to normal so you can get back to business.

During a cyberattack, time is your most critical resource. Be prepared. Have an elite team of experts on standby to enable you to respond faster, reduce business impact AND reestablish business continuity.
